

As a climax to the 'Week of Prayer for Christian Unity', an ecumenical service will be held at St. Dorothy's church on Sunday at 8 pm. Clergymen and laymen from all the churches will take part in the service.

People of all faiths are invited to attend, and in particular, those who attended the Unity Meetings in the homes during the past week.

DIVIDED AGAINST ITSELF?

Abraham Leiter has been dead now for some years, but his memory lingers on. Many of Wilmington's older residents can remember the gentleman - he collected junk, in a wagon, from his home on Salem Street. He made enough money in this way to raise a family, and to put three children through college, which perhaps is an accomplishment that many parents are unable to perform.

Mr Leiter, some years ago, constructed a large (30 by 50 feet) building near his home, for the indoor storage of the junk that he collected. It is a substantial building, standing on a poured concrete foundation, and is of two stories.

Robert P Stevens of Winchester is a real estate broker. He buys lots of land, builds homes, and then sells them. He has bought many lots of land in Wilmington in the past several years, a goodly number of them being fifty feet wide.

Some months ago Mr Stevens bought a fifty foot wide lot of land adjacent to the land on which the Leiter Building had been erected. He had the land surveyed and found

Three announce for School Board

BOB TADGELL IS CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Robert E Tadgell, 11 Dorothy Avenue, a resident of Wilmington for the past 10 years, has announced his candidacy for re-election to the school committee for the unexpired term of one year. Mr Tadgell was elected to fill a vacancy on the present committee in September 1966 by the School Committee and Board of Selectmen.

He is an assistant treasurer of the State Street Bank and Trust Co., Boston and is assigned to the Computer Services - Operations Dept.

A graduate of Arlington High School and the American Institute of Banking, he has attended Northeastern University, Bentley College of Accounting, and various IBM schools. He is a member of the Data Processing Management Association.

In seeking re-election, Mr Tadgell feels that the knowledge and experience gained from his service on the present committee, especially in the new area of collective bargaining, has given him the groundwork with which to serve the town in this important area of education.

WILLIAM J FAY JR IS CANDIDATE

William J Fay, Jr., of 18 Brand Avenue has announced his candidacy for a three year term on the School Committee.

Mr Fay is a 26 year old, life-long resident of Wilmington. He attended Wilmington schools, graduating from Wilmington High School in 1958. He graduated from Salem State College in 1966.

A US Army veteran, he is employed as a teacher at Tewksbury High School. While attending college Mr Fay was active in student affairs, and was elected president of the student body in his senior year.

Active in local activities, he is a member of the Wilmington Little League Board of Directors, as well as managing the Redlegs, a member of the Tewksbury-Wilmington Elks, active on Youth Activities Committee; also an active participant in the Recreational Softball League.

At present a bachelor, Mr Fay is to be married on February 18th to Miss Patricia Carroll of Tewksbury.

BREWSTER IS CANDIDATE FOR REELECTION

Arthur J Brewster of Dorchester Street, present chairman of the Wilmington School Committee has announced his candidacy for re-election to the Committee.

A graduate of Wilmington High, Brewster holds a BS degree from Lowell State College and a Masters degree from Salem State college. He has been actively involved in education since 1960.

Mr Brewster played an active roll in implementing the Collective Bargaining Law and has considerable experience in negotiations. Brewster believes that collective bargaining is going to present the community an unparalleled opportunity to tap, in the truest sense, the talent resident within the professional staff; talent and human resources which all too frequently have gone undetected.

As we go forward, he says, we

Hatch Act at Hathaway Acres

Hathaway Acres Extension appears to have been singled out by the Department of Natural Resources as a place where land is being filled in a manner of which they do not approve.

William G Childs, co-chairman of the Wilmington Conservation Commission met with the Planning Board a week ago Tuesday evening to discuss this and other problems. Childs spent nearly half an hour with the Planning Board, and in the discussion included a projected real estate development, off Wildwood Street, behind the 'Veterans Housing'. This place, too, Mr Childs said, has land that should not be filled in.

The latest extension of Hathaway Acres, which is one of the larger real estate developments in Wilmington, goes eastward to Martins Brook. Gowing Brook, a tributary to Martins Brook, forms part of the southeast border of Hathaway Acres extension. It serves in part as a drain for the projected Barbo-Tambone Industrial development between Concord and Park Streets and also serves as a drain for the land in the vicinity of the Barrows Pumping Station.

The Department of Natural Resources and the Conservation Commission are acting under the provisions of Chapter 220 of the Acts of 1965, the so-called Hatch Act, which prohibits the filling in of land which is a part of a natural waterway. A Mr Frank DeLiddo had written the letters from the Department of Natural Resources.

Five lots of land are being filled in, in the latest extension of Hathaway Acres, but attention was focused on one lot, which abuts the Gowing Brook.

Bank gravel, from other parts of the extension, is being used.

Peat is being pushed aside, according to Mr Childs, and the bank gravel is being put in place. He had a photograph of such an operation, which he told the Planning Board was of the lot adjacent to Gowing Brook, and which, he said, would change the brook from a slow stream to a deep fast running brook.

Town Engineer Arthur Harding observed that the development was 'approved', but that perhaps the road should not have gone so far to the east. Water mains and other utilities were in place, and it was too late to change things.

He brought up the question of what the town would do, if anything, about the lots of land that had been set aside for municipal purposes, playground or other use. Three such lots of land are set aside at the northeastern end of the Hathaway Acres extension, and they abut three similar lots in the Esquire Estates, just to the north.

Chairman Gillis said that the Planning Board had kept setting aside lots of land, but that the town had never exercised its option to buy. Referring to the statutory time limit, he said that 'If we don't take them (the three lots) we are going to lose them'.

Childs: We were originally asked by Mr Rounds, the developer of Hathaway Acres, to look into this, but when we did we came under the direct fire of the Town Counsel. It doesn't have to be a play area - it might be, for instance, a site for a fire station or for shelters for children who are waiting for school buses, or for any other municipal purpose.

Mrs McKie wanted to know how the law read, and Gillis told her that the phrase was 'Dedicated area' and that they town had to buy such land within two years.

Harding observed that the lots set aside in Hathaway Acres and in the abutting Esquire Estates were 'just barely large enough for a Little League field'.

Childs went on to discuss the proposed real estate development off Wildwood Street, and said he had sent a letter in October suggesting that the wet land there be returned to the town for conservation purposes.

'We don't have any money to buy land. Our budget this year has been cut 50%. There are 105 Conservation Commissions in Massachusetts, and only two of them do not have funds.'

Gillis: That land is reimbursable by the state - up to 50%.

Childs: We were told last year, by the Board of Selectmen, and by the old Finance Committee, not to bother about funds unless we had a definite site in mind. We wanted a sum of up to $7500, which can be deposited in a bank to draw interest, so that we could buy this type of land when the need arose. The commission voted this year not to try for this money.

The discussion ended at about 9 pm with an agreement that the Planning Board, the Conservation Commission and the Recreation Commission should 'try to get together' to further discuss this type of problem.

New Appointee

Mr Gillis had a letter from the Town Manager that James Banda had resigned from the Planning Board on Nov. 30th., effective December 31st., and that William Stickney, 12 Linda Road, a member of the 'old' Finance Committee, had been appointed to fill out the unexpired term of Mr Banda.

Stickney, Gillis said, was in New Hampshire on business, and would not be able to attend the meeting, but he would be here next week.

Other Business

Gillis read excerpts of a letter from the Town Counsel which was in reply to a previous question from the Planning Board.

Violations of the Zoning Law can be punished by fines, in court, up to $20 a day, was the message in the letter, and the law is valid as it has been tried in the courts.

There was a letter from Prof. Charles W Elliot of Harvard, who has started on some extensive studies for the Planning Board using funds provided by five of Wilmington's industries.

Prof. Elliot wanted to know if the new parking regulations applies to the DiCenso and the Barbo-Tambone Industrial developments.

The Town Counsel, Gillis said, said that they do not. 'I have some material for him to look over.'

He went on to say that Prof. Elliot was supposed to be 'working on small lots' - for the Town Meeting, and Mrs McKie spoke up to say that he was also supposed to be working on 'the Stadium thing' also for the Town Meeting.

There was a letter from the former planner, Sam Snow of Lexington. It was not read aloud.

Gillis observed that there are two hearings before the Board of Appeals next week which he thought the Planning Board should attend. One of them has to do with 'A' signs, which had been the subject for attention of the former Building Inspector, Ralph Jenkins, and Gillis observed that Jenkins 'did an effective job on it'.

He had a letter to the Building Inspector about present 'violations' of the sign law, and another from Mr and Mrs Daniel Ballou of Park Street, saying that the brook (Gowing Brook) which drains part of the projected Barbo-Tambone Industrial development goes by their home and 'they might be flooded out'.

There was a letter from the Temporary Town Manager, Harold Melzar, about the status of the '701 projects' (on which Professor Elliot is working) Mr. Melzar's letter said that there seemed to be a 'considerable confusion' about this project, and questioned the sums of $6000, and a further $4000 being spent.

Secretary Emil Berger spoke up to say he was sending a letter, and that he was not aware of 'any confusion'. He cited discussions with the federal HUD program, and said that the $6000 was already committed, and that the $4000 was to follow up.

Berger, for the past several meetings, has been discussing the possibility of having a prize for a high school student who could make the best 'relief' map of Wilmington. He brought up the subject again, Tuesday evening, wanting to know if anyone had an idea on what and how to specify so that a contest could be had, on an even footing. Al Rounds showed some interest in the subject and was promptly named as the member who would 'draw up the specs'.

Conflict of Interest

Danny Gillis had a few words to say on the subject of Conflict of Interest. He told the board he would like to send a letter to the Town Counsel on the subject.

Gillis spoke of the attorneys of Wilmington, emphasizing that he was not speaking of any particular individual, and wanted to know how they could serve on various boards without getting into some type of conflict of interest.

'Can a lawyer, paid by a company or a person, serve on a board which votes on official matters?' he asked.

He spoke somewhat caustically of seeing the towns lawyers in a huddle at the Monday town meeting. 'I just do not see how any counsel can do it!' he said.

Berger: Are you limiting it to the lawyers?

Gillis: Let's get at the lawyers first - standing around in the town meeting!

Rounds: Back in May of 1963 Mr Bouchard (former Town Manager, Ed.) sent out a letter on the Conflict of Interest situation.

Gillis: Can I send this letter to the Town Counsel - this points directly at cases -

There was no dissent.

Gillis then spoke to Mrs McKie on the subject of underground wiring for power lines. Mrs McKie had evidently written a letter, for Gillis said he didn't like the letter. 'Concord is going ahead with plans for underground wires in new residential developments'

Mrs McKie: Any objections if I talk to Concord?

Gillis: Would you want to start perusing their literature?

Town Engineers Report

Town Engineer Arthur Harding told the Planning Board that both Moore Street and Wedgewood Ave were being recommended to be accepted in the Town Meeting in March.

He had, he said, deferred any action on Manning Street, and on the extension of Moore Street because they were not built under the supervision of the Town Engineer. 'They may be all right - but I just don't know'.

I had an interesting phone call this week. The service boys in Alaska have asked that I should run my picture in the paper and let them know who I am.

Well, Fellas, that depends a lot on the word of the Chief. He told me when I commenced this job that neither he nor I were news!

So - if you really want to know, let's have a letter on it boys. Tell that boss you want to know. I'm certain that the boys know some of my kids.

Seaman George Gray is in Adak, Alaska, which is way out in the Aleutian Islands, and is about fifteen miles from the Russian-American line. I was talking with his mother, and she says that the boys are so short of reading material that they read anything!

If packages arrive in which newspapers were used for packing, the papers are read - every word - old news or not.

Anyone with ideas on this, please let me know - 657-7141.

Mrs. Gray is footing the bill for the whole outfit, I judge. She sends reading material stuffed in cans which the Eagle Can Company has been supplying, and she says that they have been very generous too. The Navy is up there on a hush-hush job of somekind, and the boys can certainly stand for a little moral support from the folks at home.

A new lodge for the Sons of Italy has been formed and is now awaiting its charter. There will be a big 'to do' when that day arrives and Frances Gray will have had her wish. The Venerable is Charles Ingalls; the Assistant Venerable is Donald Ugolini. The founders: Frances Gray, Laura Cairra and Jerry Murray.

Meetings are being held at the Skating Club on Chestnut Street on the first Thursday of each month. Other officers are: Ex-Venerable Jerry Murray; Orator, James Capozzi; Recording Secretary, Laura Cairra; Financial Secretary, Frances Gray; Treasurer, Anthony Fortunata; Masters of Ceremonies Sylvia Fantasia and Ann Visconti; Sentinel, William Walley; and the Trustees are Al Powers, Gus Cuoco, Cynthia Esposito, Rita Ingalls, and Nick Caselleto.

Call any of these folks if you are interested in joining, or go over the to the Skating Clubhouse on the first Thursday in February.

George Sumner of Thurston Ave has been promoted to SP4. He is now stationed in Germany, having obtained an Engineering School diploma in France.

Wilfred 'Bill' Downs, a Tenth Grader in the High School, is confined at home with multiple neck and back injuries. The 16 year old boy says that everyone has been very good to him. The Fire Department and ambulance not only handled the situation adeptly, but even called to see how he was. The School Department called, his chums have been bringing him assignments and visiting him, at his home on Ayotte Street. Keep up the good work, fellas! Cards for him, people?

Agers really shine at this thing, and they say that age is no barrier. Make your plans kids!

Barbara Silverman of 136 Middlesex Avenue is confined to the hospital, and is recovering. Her friends can write cards of see her at home at the end of the week.

It's too bad to hear that Ernie Woodside of Aldrich Road is confined to the hospital. He is down in the Winchester Hospital - so get out the pens, gals, and drop him cards to cheer him. You can tell it is winter, with all the sickness.

George Kenson tells me that the Jaycees have flooded the rink at the Skating Club, and the place is now open to the public. It's kind of soft right now, but will be good as soon as we get a cold snap. So far, January hasn't hardly had any, but one should be along any day now.

The rink is floodlighted, for night time skating, and if enough people are interested the Jaycees will arrange contests or something. There is an Open House being planned, for a month or so in the future.

Margaret D'Errico had an operation before Christmas, and will probably be in bed for about five months more. Her address is 2 Gowing Road, in N. Wilmington, and if cards can be sent to her it will be nice.

Her good friends Michelle LaValle and Barbara Flores were nice enough to tell me.

Donna Sferrazza, who is secretary to the Senior High Pilgrim Fellowship at the Congregational Church tells me that the organization is going to celebrate its 80th year of work in the youth of the church during Youth Week, which is Jan 29 to Feb. 4.

The activities will include the youth taking over the Sunday Morning Worship, next Sunday, and on Feb. 2nd they are planning to have a basketball game between the parents and the PF's. There will be a basketball game between the parents and the PF's. There will be a Youth Banquet held on Friday Feb. 3rd at 6 pm, (99¢ for adults, 75¢ for children), and she says DON'T FORGET - For we want everyone to come!

The youngsters in the North Intermediate School under the direction of Mrs. Mary Bulley are busy working on articles for a new school paper, which is to be called the N.I.S. CHARGER.

William Olson and Steve Sullivan, the business managers, ran a contest to select a name, and all the editors agreed on the name which was suggested by Steve Catalano and Scott Sheerin.

The Editorial Staff consists of: Carol Freeman, Linnes Wiberg, Glenna Downs, Charles Rice, Connie Moulton, Chester Hall, Robert Swisher, Patrick Turner, Sven Wiberg, William Regan and Beverly Todd.

They have a creative art section with David Allen and Ted Wicks, and there were many excellent stories and unique poems in the first edition.

Those High School editors etc. of The Alpha had better start looking to their laurels!

There are regular meetings of the staff, on Tuesday afternoons, and it is expected that the first edition will be out during early February.

The Methodist Church is planning to have another 'Family Night' on Sunday, Feb. 5th at 6 pm. Mr. Hanson, who is the Pastoral Advisor to the Commission on Missions says: 'First Impression: Poverty is a complex problem for which there is no simple answer; Second Impression: Fellowship with students like these from such different backgrounds is a stimulating thing, and gives us a clearer realization of our oneness together as children of God'.

HELP! HELP! The Mother's Day Out program of the Methodists needs sitters. Recently mothers had to be turned away because Mrs. Ryan was there all by herself. Call the church office, 658-4519 if you can spare a few hours. I think this would be a good project for some grandmothers, and the kids are so cute!

Someone, I don't know his name and he doesn't live in Wilmington, must be having a wonderful time wondering what is going on in this town.

The Gendarmes, late one night last week, cornered him on Concord Street - and he really was cornered.

He drove down Salem Street and went on the wrong side, on the one-way streets near the home of John Brooks. He was observed doing this by a Wilmington gendarme who was in an unmarked cruiser, and was really looking for someone else. The car looked suspicious, so it was followed by the unmarked cruiser, and the other cruisers were alerted by radio-telephone.

Everybody met at the corner of Concord Street and Woburn Street. The gent who was being followed was an out of town salesman, and his first notice of what was happening was when one of the unmarked vehicles swung in front of him, at the same time as a regular cruiser swung in behind him.

This was alarming enough, at such a late hour, but then Chief of Police Paul Lynch's car stopped so as to block all entrance onto Route 93, in case the fellow should try to make a 'break', and then another cruiser came up, this one with a police dog, barking and ready to do his duty.

But there was still more.

Down from Lucci's Market came still another police cruiser, and when it swung into Concord Street it stopped in such a way as to illuminate everything that was going on. The fellow who was driving the car was about 101% surrounded.

Very bewildered he stepped out of his car. The cops recognized almost instantly that he was not the person they were seeking. They warned him not to drive the wrong way on a one way street again, and let him go.

It's a good bet he is still wondering about what goes on, in that little jerk town of Wilmington where half a dozen police vehicles and a snarling police dog converge at midnight on a guy who has broken a traffic regulation!

But, if you ask this gal, those Gendarmes really missed a chance. Can you imagine what the fellow would have said if one of the cops had stepped up and asked: Would you like to buy a ticket for the Policeman's Ball?

One of the gals in the Post Office has been telling me about the poet in their midst - a gal, it

Selectmen's Meeting

The Board of Selectmen, Monday night, read a letter from the State DPW which said that the state had examined both Rte 125 and the Woburn Street bridges over Route 93.

The Selectmen did not seem to be happy. Chairman Lloyd Bender observed that all bridges over the highway should have permanent fencing, and that Rep. Fred Cain has expressed an interest and will do anything he is able. Selectman Niles suggested that the Selectmen write a letter and set up an appointment to meet with their representative. Mr. Micelli agreed.

A new dog complaint was received. Niles suggested that both parties be called in, as the prior case was handled. The decision was to call them both for Monday, January 30th., and to have the Town Counsel present.

Bender pointed out that a letter had been written to the board which said that Dick Henneberger had taken it upon himself to negotiate on his own, privately, with respect to some salaries. Town Manager Harold Melzar took the position that it was a lot of 'hog-wash'.

Bender brought up again the case of the chain across the end of Carter Lane, on the roadway leading to the new West School. He said that it was a concern of the Selectmen that the chain be put in place, and that twice the board had taken an identical position, but each time they had been told that it was not desirable nor necessary. Mr. Robert Jordan, of 18 Carter Lane was present.

Bender said that further it was the recommendation of the Safety Committee that there should be a chain to prevent access to the school area of itinerant traffic.

Jordan said that motorists were treating the school area as a full street, and that it was his understanding that Carter Lane was to be treated as a dead end street.

If the idea had been to make it a through-way, Jordan said, he would not be at the Selectmen's meeting. There were twenty-two children on the street, and the town had invested two million dollars for schools, and it seemed foolish if the town wasn't going to protect the children. Jordan went on to say that the police were good about coming, if they were called, but that he had not seen any around unless they were called.

Jordan issued an invitation to the Board of Selectmen to come sit in his front room and watch the cars as they went through.

Bender said he knew the investment in detail, that the board had voted to have something done, and did the board mean it when the vote was made?

Niles said it was his opinion that the road should be open only to town vehicles and the police, and should be blocked the rest of the time. Micelli said that there had been signs erected, but Jordan said that there was little or no improvement as a result of the signs.

Micelli wondered if it was a question of police enforcement. Jordan made it definite that he did not think it was a police problem. The police had been very co-operative, he said, but he did not know whether or not they had issued tickets.

TM Melzar reported that he had contacted the principal, and that only five cars a day were going through. Jordan said that on Saturday and Sunday the average was thirty cars an hour.

Bender said that this was a problem - that the principal was not there on Thursday, Friday nor Saturday nights. Niles insisted that there be a chain for all hours but school hours.

Melzar said he would have Jimmy White, Paul (Lynch) and the School Department 'up here' and Bender replied that the Chief and Jimmy White can appear after the chain is up.

There were years of planning and paying for the schools, Bender said. First there was the Woburn Street School pedway, and now for two years there was the Woburn St. bridge. Why plan the schools?

Micelli said that Lynch does not want the chain, and Mrs. Drew asked Jordan if it was all right to 'put the chain up on your land?' Jordan said it would have to be chained off, if the intent was not to have a throughway.

Bender pointed out again that the board had already voted this twice. 'Do you wish to rescind the vote?' There was a negative response.

'I wish a report from the Town Manager as soon as the chain is up'.

Melzar then reported a memo from Mr. Jaeschke with relation to a pedway from Dunton Road to the West School, and suggested that the individuals be invited in to see what they were talking about.

Black said they had spent years talking about the Carter Street Pedway to the Boutwell School. Bender said he had drove down and followed two teenagers into the school yard. They had then gone one and crossed through to the other side. - The Board had been asked to endorse all features in five schools, in four years with all safety features included. Now this should be taken care of.

Melzar said that the Executive Committee of the Mass Federation of Planning Boards had written about a proposal limiting the lot sizes, now in the legislature. The Committee was opposed. The Selectmen, too were opposed, and voted to go on record as opposed and that Mr. Cain be notified. Bender asked that a copy of the bill be sent to the Selectmen as soon as it was available.

Micelli said he had been checking on the 701 projects of the Planning Board, with Fred Fallon, and it was still being held in abeyance.

Niles asked about the applications for Town Manager. Black said they had heard from six.

Niles suggested that they should be acknowledged right away and discussed as soon as possible. The town has an obligation he said to hire a TM and they should take immediate steps.

Micelli said his position hasn't changed (wants to keep Melzar on the job) and Black said the people should be interviewed.

Mrs. Drew spoke up to say that there wasn't anyone on the list that she would waste fifteen minutes on. Micelli said that Melzar should take it, that he was the best by far that he had seen sitting in that chair.

Melzar changed the subject by saying that Mr. Stevens had a lot of land on Cunningham Street, and that he wished to divert the brook there. The Selectmen had disapproved, and the case had then gone to the state house, and there it had been approved. Melzar wanted to know what he should do.

Bender said that the owner could proceed - that the State Department of Natural Resources had overruled them, and that was the purpose of the legislation.

Mrs. Drew questioned Felice Vitale, who as usual was in the audience, on the removal of the signs he has stuck up around town. Vitale said he would remove them the day after the election. Micelli spoke up to say he had removed his the same day. Bender facetiously added that the chairman did not have enough money to put up signs, and Melzar said he had never put up a sign in all the years he had been running.

Mrs. Drew finished the conversation by saying the only reason she had brought up the subject was because so many people had spoken to her about the Vitale signs.

The board then went into executive session to discuss the budget with Melzar and Mr. Peters, Town Accountant.

THEY'VE WON EIGHT AND LOST TWO: The Jayvees of Wilmington High School have very winning manners, in basketball this year. Front, L to R: Paul Kritter, Mgr., Bob Stewart, Jim Tildesley, Gerry Land, Bill Steber and Bob McAllister, Mgr.

Rear: Gary Hebsch, Eddie Thomas, Milt Cram, Danny Ballou, Len Gagnon, coach. Capt. Doug Smith was absent when the picture was taken.

Junior Division

The second half started off with several games being won by only one or two points. The Broncos had the largest margin downing the Chargers 33 to 15. The score doesn't tell the story, as the Chargers came out in the second half keeping the Broncos in line. Tom Beaton led the Broncos with 12 points, aided by 11 points by Paul Lyman. Rick Smallidge and Joe Mullen had 7 points each for the Chargers.

The Chiefs just got by the Jets 28 to 25. The Jets led at the half 19 to 13, but were not able to hold the lead in that second half. Steve Holloway led all the scoring with 18 points and Bob Gillis was hot man for the Jets with 10 points.

The Raiders were just able to hang onto a 25 to 24 victory over the Patriots. Half time score showed the Raiders 11, Patriots 2.

The second half was something again, as the Pats came out to score 21 points when time ran out on them. Jim Irwin led all the scorers with 10 points, while Ray Noel hit for 8 points for the Patriots.

PAGE EIGHT

It was two wins and two losses for the Wilmington High School lads this past week, with Coach Palm beaming and Coach Dicey steaming.

The WHS Hockey Team came up with two big Merrimack Valley Conference victories by upsetting Billerica four to two on Wednesday and Chelmsford five to four Saturday. Jim Brewster, John Gennetti, Danny O'Connell and Gary Irwin each lit the light in handing Billerica its first setback of the season. The Wildcats ran their record to 4 - 5 - 1 on Saturday in spectacular fashion with Jim Brewster scoring the winner on a breakaway with only thirty-seven seconds remaining in the game! Don Currier slapped home two goals against the Lions of former Wilmington resident, Pete Melchiano. One of Chelmsford's stand outs is another ex-WHSer, Dave 'Mighty-Mite' Willard.

It was the same old story for the Wildcat Basketball, however, as they lost two more, including one league tilt. On Tuesday, the Donahue brothers combined for thirty-one and Billy Walls hit for fourteen points, but it wasn't nearly enough to handle Billerica, which used a big third period to clinch an easy 78 - 57 triumph.

On Friday our cellar dwellers took on neighboring North Reading and didn't find them too neighborly. N.R.'s superior size provided over whelming control. This, coupled with Wilmington's very cold shooting, resulted in a 66 - 45 defeat.

Coach Bob Dicey predicts a 'spoiler' role for his team in the campaign's second half. Let's hope so. It would be good to disprove the adage 'Nice guys finish last.'

In JayVee action, Coach Len Gagnon's boys boosted their record to eight and two last week with a couple of impressive wins. Lenny has his kids hustling and playing DEFENSE of all things! something rather unfamiliar to recent high school teams.

Unreserved

'Hurring Frankie' Harrington has a chance to win four letters in Cross Country and five in Track in his Wilmington High career. He already has two in each sport and is just a sophomore! ... St. Thomas' CYO girls basketballers have a pretty fair team as wins of 77 - 6 and 76 - 4 might attest. ... Monte Green, where are you? ... Rep Fred Cain could throw his support to the proposed stadium, but he prefers to remain noncommittal. Too busy with other legislation perhaps? ... Wilmington's large contingent of fans who trudge to the inadequate Fenway Park to watch the Patriots would like to see something materialize.

The outstanding passing and defensive play of the front-running Bedell Celtics is a pleasure to watch. ... The Town Crier, by the way, has donated a handsome trophy to go to the champion of this fledgling Men's League. ... Phil Nelson's Boosters are investigating electric scoreboards for the high school football field, a nice gesture by a hardworking, benevolent organization. ... It is difficult to tell which is worse, the Bruins or N.H.L. officiating. When Campbell shafter Red Storey, he lost the league's only competent referee. ... We'll see how much weight Vince Lombardi carries when the issue of red shirt drafting is resolved. It's quite likely the A.F.L. will get the short end again.

'PRAYER AND THE SPIRITUAL HEALING MOVEMENT'

... a subject arousing more interest than at any time since early Christianity.

Is spiritual healing a modern day possibility? Can it be explained in terms of understandable spiritual law? How does prayer help?

Robert Peel, author of two major books about Christian Science, is interviewed by a professional writer and graduate of Harvard Divinity School.

You may hear this informative discussion of 'Prayer and the Spiritual Healing Movement' on Sundays, beginning January 29th.

THE ACCIDENT THAT SHOULDN'T HAVE HAPPENED. A New England Telephone Truck, last Thursday, rammed into a truck in which Eddie Forrest and Ralph Peterson were riding, at the corner of Cunningham Street and Salem Street. Both Forrest and Peterson were sent to the hospital in the Fire Dept. ambulance, and then released.

The NET&T truck, driven by Cliff Dunning of Nabnasset, had undergone a periodic check just two days before the accident. Dunning told the Wilmington Police that the brakes just yanked the truck to the right, and he was unable to stop before the accident occurred.

NANCY

turned out, and her name is Elizabeth Coste. Here is a sample of her work:

THE DEADLY MECHANIC

Who took the knob off the cupboard door?
My eyes see it's missing, I search 'round the floor.

The culprit, I know, without being told - -
A pint size mechanic, three years old.

Things have come to a pretty pass,
Not even putty is safe on its glass.

The gadget that makes the phonograph play
Was unscrewed from its moorings the other day.

Each screw he removes with such a sweet smile,
He's certainly got a mechanical style.

One night I tucked him safely in bed,
Then, softly, down the stairs I tread.

All was quiet 'til I heard a loud roar,
His spring and mattress had hit the floor!

Every screw on his crib was gone,
His mechanical aptitude goes steadily on.

Sometimes his mechanics are not very wise,
Lockwashers he tries on his fingers for size.

My strong right arm can't deter his intent,
When on mechanical mischief he's bent.

We've hidden the screwdriver, hammer and drill,

MEASLES CLINICS TO BE CONDUCTED IN THE SCHOOLS

The Board of Health, in co-operation with the Wilmington Public Schools, is planning to conduct a series of clinics in the Wilmington Public Schools, for protection against measles.

Any child in school who has never had measles or measles vaccine is eligible, providing that he does not have eczema, is not allergic, or taking cortisones.

Permission slips have been sent home, and parents are asked to have them returned promptly. The program is being offered as part of a state wide campaign to eliminate measles.

It's no use - that kid has an iron will.

A teaspoon handle he'll use with precision,
Once he has made his important decision

On whether to drill, uncrew, or hammer,
If I take it away, he sets up a clamour.

I dread the day when he first goes to school
I fear for his marks, though he's far from a fool.

With tools he expresses himself so well,
He has learned how to hammer - can he learn to spell?

He surely will be in a terrible plight
If he checks every desk, 'Are these screws all on tight?'

With these antics, the teacher will never contend,
Her patience, he'll try 'til it reaches the end.

I can see it all now, the classroom in panic,
He's unbolted the chairs, 'My Deadly Mechanic'

If he grows up, I know what he'll be,
He shows great promise at the age of three.

NOT ENOUGH ICE TO SKATE ON AND NOT ENOUGH WATER TO melt. That's the situation in some of the unaccepted streets in Wilmington as a result of the 'January Thaw'. Above is Dexter Street, in the Silver Lake District.

For Adams Street and Clark Street, Harding said that there should be alterations to the existing property lines and the existing traveled way.

On Adams Street, he said, the street line does not conform to the existing property lines and the existing traveled way.

He had a 1854 plan of Clark St., and that was about all. It was accepted, Harding said, in 1894, with out a 'layout'. There is no record of a layout, and there is no record of any plan.

Clark Street, Harding said, varies from 32 feet to 48 feet wide. He would recommend a fifty foot layout, but there is the alternative that they might have to settle for forty feet, in which case they might think of either (1) one way traffic, or (2) no parking at any time.

Both Adams Street and Clark Street were recommended for side walks in 1965 Harding said, but this was not done in 1965, nor in 1966.

He had scheduled February 14th for the Planning Board to sign plans of streets, with a hearing on February 20th.

Harding went on to say that he had had a letter from the Heffron Company, about Charlotte Road. Heffron was interested in reducing the bond on that street - he was unable to get the trees in before the winter set in, and Harding felt that he was the 'victim of circumstances'.

Harding also brought up the subject of bank books which had been deposited to guarantee the construction of streets, or other utilities.

He had a number of them. He listed one from Scribner & Pearson for $350, one from Vokey & Parsons for $3300, one from Sandy MacFarland for $650 and one from Edsel Tocci for $8500.

Reading Water Supply

When the Planning Board got around to their nearly weekly function of signing plans it was noted that one was for the Town of Reading, for Water Supplies.

About 60,000 square feet of land would be acquired, in Wilmington, according to the plan.

The board noted that it was along Route 93, and that it had no frontage on any street in Wilmington. The land is owned by Mr and Mrs Frank Miller, and Harding pointed out that in one place there was a phrase about 'land to be purchased'.

wile on the map itself the words were 'land to be taken'.

The board discussed the plan, and then decided, on suggestion of Rounds, that it be sent back to the Town of Reading for clarification.

Chuck Casey got 8 for the Knicks, Danny Ballou got 17 points all in the second half, for the Lakers.

The Royals downed the Pistons 45 to 38. Again in the second half the losers out-scored the winners but it just wasn't enough for a victory. Gary Hebsch with 14 points and Doug Smith with 13 led the Royals scoring. Bill Steber kept putting the round ball through the hoop for 14, aided by John McNevin's 8 points. Paul Kritter tossed up 7 for the Pistons.

POSTMASTER ASKS SNOW BE CLEARED

In a letter to the public, Postmaster Henry J Porter and the letter carriers of the Wilmington Post Office have asked that Postal Patrons please clear snow away from delivery boxes to expedite the delivery of mail.

The letter reads:

Dear Patron:

Postal Regulations regarding delivery of mail to RFD boxes require that patrons keep the approach to their box cleared of snow which will permit your rural carrier, and city carrier to drive up to the mail box and deposit mail without leaving his vehicle. The approach to the box should be cleared sufficiently on both sides to allow the carrier to drive ahead and not be required to back up his vehicle after delivery.

In the event a patron is unable to clear the approach sufficiently in time for delivery, please advise this office when delivery should be made. Your mail will be held at the Post Office until notified, and may be picked up on weekdays between 8 am and 4:30 pm., and on Saturdays between 8 am and 11:30 am.

Should you find that the approach to the mail box cannot be cleared due to hardening of the snow, or for any other reason, please be advised that:

1. You may request delivery of your mail to another box on the route that has been cleared, with the permission of the patron.

2. You may erect a suitable temporary receptacle which is accessible to the carrier.

3. You may arrange to meet the carrier at your box.

4. You may continue to have your mail held at the postoffice... to be picked up by you until delivery of the mail can be resumed.

Your cooperation in this matter during the winter season is sincerely appreciated, and suggestions you may have regarding the improvement and efficiency of the postal services are always welcome.

Sincerely,
Your Postmaster and Carriers.

Divided House?

that the building was partly on land that he, Stevens, owned. Stevens had a mark painted on the building showing where the lot line went through it. There are stories that the police were called, last summer, because of arguments taking place over the property.

Tuesday night the Board of Appeals had the case dumped in its lap. It was the most hotly contested case to appear before that board in years - with not two parties but three appearing. It was heard by Chairman Louis Gage, and members Ernest Jamieson and Richard Howlett.

The case started off like a gentle breeze and before it was over there was, on at least one occasion, a 'Your a Liar!' charge hurled across the room.

Max Leiter, one of the heirs, was the first to speak. Mr Leiter told the board that the building had inadvertently been constructed nine feet over the line, at one end. He wanted to put in a new foundation, and then move the building back so that it was within the property line.

Simon Cutter, Esq. was next. He represented the gentleman who owned the land just to the eastward - Benjamin Jacobs.

Cutter pointed out that there was more to the case than just moving a building. The land, he said, was zoned for residential purposes and the building was not residential.

Leiter told the board that at the time the building was erected there had been a Board of Appeals hearing, and permission had been granted to erect a building for the purpose of storing junk.

Bob Stevens had been sitting quietly by. Now he spoke up, but without raising from his chair. The building, he said, was partly on his property, and he had an injunction in the Middlesex Superior Court, forbidding Leiter from moving the building.

Stevens felt that the Board of Appeals had no right to hear a case that was already in the Middlesex Superior Court.

Leiter interjected that it was his building, that he had been paying taxes on it, and only he had been paying taxes on it.

Stevens went on to say that if the Board of Appeals granted permission to move the building to the property line it would then become 'detrimental' to his property. He was speaking, he said, not only for his own good, but for the 'public good'.

There was a new voice which spoke up - that of Samuel Shostak Esq. He represented the Leiters, brother and sister.

Shostak told the board that Mr Cutter was questioning the decision of the Board of Appeals of 16 years ago. If it were not for a mistake in fact, made sixteen years ago in locating the building, Mr. Cutter would be having nothing to say, as there would be no hearing.

Shostak also charged that Mr. Stevens was 'on both sides of the question'. 'It is not an unsightly building, and perhaps it has helped the area'. Shostak went on to say that until the Court had made a determination Stevens would be unable to say 'this piece is mine'.

Stevens had not gone down to the Town Hall, Shostak charged, and offered to pay taxes on the portion of the building which he claimed he owned. Further, Shostak argued, Stevens had no right to say whether or not the Board of Appeals could allow the Leiters to move the building.

'This encroachment didn't come to light until Stevens bought the adjoining lot and had it surveyed.'

'The controversy has existed for one and a half years, and we have made every effort to resolve the problem'.

'Not until Mr Leiter filed application for the Board of Appeals hearing did Mr Stevens file his Bill in Equity before the Middlesex Superior Court - when he saw the notice in the paper, or was otherwise notified, then, and then only did he go to court!'

'This is a unique situation' Shostak charged, 'The only people who can solve it is the Board of

When you're down at your dealer's trying out a new Chevrolet, be sure you pull out the ash tray. Notice how nice and easy it glides, never hanging up or even scraping. The reason is, it rides on ball bearings. Four shiny little ball bearings. (Take the tray all the way out and you'll see them.)

Flora has the Town Hall hopping

Mrs M Flora Kasabuski, a member of the Wilmington Housing Authority, has the Town Hall hopping.

As of yesterday afternoon the lady is not a candidate for the School Committee - but she might be. She has papers out, and signatures.

Flora, a lawyer, is an employee of the Town Crier on a part-time basis. She has been meditating on whether or not to be a candidate, for the School Board, now that her children have all graduated from school.

Yesterday afternoon she discussed the subject of her being a member of the Housing Authority and of the School Board, with the Town Clerk. She did not want the Town Clerk to be embarrassed on questions of her holding dual office. Mrs Kasabuski pointed out that the office of Housing Authority is a 'state' office, as differentiated from 'town' office.

The Town Clerk was slightly dubious, and called the State House Election Department. The answer came back, that it was 'absolutely OK', that there was a difference. Still possibly dubious, the Town Clerk called the Town Counsel.

Mr Altman, the Town Counsel, appeared to agree with the State election official, except possibly for Section 2 of the Town Charter, which reads in part: 'Beginning with the first town election following acceptance of this act, the only boards, officers or committees to be elected shall be the selectmen, the school committee, the moderator and members of the Wilmington housing authority.' The section goes on to say that every other elective office shall be terminated.

Mrs Kasabuski told the Town Clerk that the town had had no other choice but to put the words 'Wilmington housing authority' in at the time of the wording of the charter, but that according to Chapter 121, Revised Statutes, the housing authority is in effect a state office. Further, Mrs Kasabuski said, the Wilmington Redevelopment Authority is also a state office, in effect, under the same Chapter 121.

If the Housing Authority is to be considered a 'town office' Mrs Kasabuski told the Town Clerk, then the Town Clerk cannot put the Wilmington Redevelopment on the ballot for the March election. The only reason it could be on the ballot, in contradiction to the Town Charter, is because it is a 'state' office.

Mrs Kasabuski said that the same ruling would also apply to the District School Committee. Wilmington has one opening for this committee, in the March election.

Mr. Altman hung up - saying he is going to read all the laws. The Town Clerk is holding her head. It is only three days before the final date for filing, by the candidates!

THE DIVIDED HOUSE?
(From Page Nine)
Appeals'. He added that the Court hearing was slated for the latter part of February.

Cutter pointed out that when the original owner had gone to the Board of Appeals, years ago, 'it must have been with a larger lot'. 'I don't think the board would have granted on this size lot' - the lot is 50 feet wide and 203 feet long. Shostak: Mr Stevens has taken the position that he owns part of the building.

Cutter: Are you claiming you own that land?

Shostak said No.

Jacobs spoke up to say that if the building were moved over to the lot line it would then be closer to his land, and that he would object.

Frank McLean spoke up. He now lives on Temple Place, but he lived for years on Salem St. opposite the 'divided' building, and he still owns the home in which he lived. There was objection that he was not an abuttor, but the chairman allowed him to speak as an 'interested party'.

McLean told the board that there would be a 'maze of fifty foot lots' with homes - and that the solution was to have the parties swap lots of land. The building was on one lot, fifty feet wide, and partly on another, also fifty feet wide. The next lot, also fifty feet wide, was owned by the Leiters.

Let Leiter and Stevens swap plots of land, McLean proposed, and there would be no problem.

Shostak: I agree this is the proper solution. I have talked with Mr Stevens until I was blue in the face, but we cannot force Mr Stevens to accept.

Lena Leiter spoke up to charge that Stevens had broken locks on the building 'six times'. She went on to say that he had marked the building with paint - from front to back, and then charged that he had left the door open, on leaving the building. 'I reported it to the police, but they did nothing'.

The chairman then called upon the building inspector to testify. McClernan said that the building was of 'third class construction' (a technical term), unpainted, and appears from the outside as though fire would 'go right through'. He had never been inside. It seemed to him that there was some kind of question in the Board of Appeals records.

The last person to speak, before the case was taken under advisement by the board, was Mrs. Jacobs. She told the board that when the original building took place 'we didn't have any notice whatsoever'.

High School Science Show

Bonny Gamble and Ken Foberg watch GM Science Lecturer Bill Terry, as he explains the operation of a gyroscope inside the suitcase.

A CAR THAT RUNS ON SUNLIGHT: is demonstrated by GM representative Steve Winchell, to Susan Beers and Carl Schayoni. The 'Sunmobile' was one of nine science demonstrations presented by the General Motors 'Preview of Progress' science show.

In A Word...

Corn

The younger generation uses this term, in its slang, to ridicule something that is trite or naive. But medically, a corn is no joke. It is a horny outgrowth—usually on the toes—that causes considerable pain to the victim.

The term is derived from the Latin word cornu which simply means "horn." It was originally applied to this type of excrescence because of the horny nature of the growth.

ordinary looking suitcase. A small gyroscope, whirling at 13,000 revolutions per minute, inside the suitcase, made this seemingly simple task difficult - the delight of the audience. The 'misbehaving' suitcase served to illustrate how gyroscopes are used to indicate direction and to safely guide ships, planes and missiles along predetermined courses.

Other highlights included a model car powered by sunlight, a roaring jet engine, and an air bearing platform that supports a person as it slides across the floor on a thin layer of air.

The two man team that appeared in Wilmington is one of seven Previews teams now touring the country. Nearly two million students are scheduled to see the show this year.

OUTSTANDING YOUNG MAN EXTENSION OF TIME

The Wilmington Jaycees have granted an extension of time for the nomination period, previously announced for January 27, for their 'Outstanding Young Man' quest. Townspeople will now be allowed to submit their choices up until February 2.

To reiterate, the Jaycees will honor at a banquet a Wilmington man between 21 and 35 years of age, who has exhibited outstanding professional and/or civic achievement. He will then be eligible for state and national recognition.

Mail all nominations, replete with elaboration on accomplishments, professional, political, civic, religious, athletic, charitable, educational, etc., and appropriate references thereto, to Joseph P. Beaton Jr., 16 King Street, Wilmington.

MARCH OF DIMES THIS WEEKEND

The annual March of Dimes, in Wilmington, is to take place this weekend, under the direction of Rep. Fred F. Cain.

Mr. Cain has what is perhaps the largest team of workers ever to take part in the March of Dimes Drive in this town.

Lowell Co-Ed Sea Divers are also participating, with an Under Water Diving Show, at the Holiday Inn in tewksbury, Saturday, from 11 am to 4 pm, for the benefit of the March of Dimes.

There are such things as Kickapoo Cough Medicine, and Cannons and Cannon Balls that have an unexplained part in the show.

Mr. Cain will be at the Cain Garage on Main Street until 5 pm Sunday, to collect the receipts of the workers.
